

Free ENR General Contracting Costbook With DCD Subscription

Dear Mike Luke,
Mountainlands Area Plan Rooms

Subscribe now through December 31, 2009 to DCD and get the just released ENR General Contracting Costbook 2010 Free with your subscription.

Today you need every resource to bring business in the door. When business knocks you can quickly answer with confidence, "How much will this cost?" before any plans are drawn with your DCD subscription. DCD is your tool to investigate new areas of business and a means to make sure your own estimates hit the mark. DCD is much more than a magazine delivered to your door.

Your DCD subscription includes access to the DCD Archives. The Archives is a fast database of 1,300 actual projects of all types - LEED®, Schools, Hospitals, Pre-Engineered, Tilt-Up, and more. The projects reflect the actual cost to build - not an estimated cost, national average or hypothetical cost. You can select from any of these projects and by using DCD's proprietary cost escalators and regional modifiers, generate new cost models for today, tomorrow or 5 years from now. Plus alter the square footage of any project to customize the project further.

You can also:

- View expanded cost data on a project
- Add, remove or modify a cost division or cost subdivision
- Save a project online for later use
- Print capabilities

A one-year subscription to DCD is $149 however; when you begin your subscription today you can add an additional year for only a penny more. Two years for $149.01!

Free ENR General Contracting Costbook 2010 when you subscribe to DCD

Just released, the ENR General Construction Costbook 2010 supplies you the information you need to prepare bids that get the job. The 2010 edition includes current and easy-to-use labor and material costs for contractors, architects, sub-contractors and other industry professionals. This costbook from Engineering News Record is a must for your resource library. You will rely on it time after time as it includes all the information you will need to estimate the cost of labor and materials for just about any type of project.

Developed by Design & Construction Resources in cooperation with ENR, the ENR General Contracting Costbook 2010 is yours free with your 2-year subscription to DCD!

Don't miss this limited-time offer. Offer expires December 31, 2009.

Subscribe today to DCD and have access to the DCD Archives with expanded functionality, get the second year for a penny, and receive the ENR General Contracting Costbook 2010 Free - all for $149.01!

Click Here To Subscribe

Sincerely,
Barb Castelli
Publisher/Design Cost Data

